Mike Bedford joins Feedworks USA
as Technical Services Consultant

CINCINNATI, Ohio (July 15, 2025) — Feedworks USA, Ltd., is pleased to introduce Mike Bedford as Technical Services Consultant playing a key role in enhancing the company's growing monogastric business. A recognized industry expert, Bedford brings 35 years of experience in nutrition, with a particular focus on conducting and managing research on feed enzymes.

"Mike is not only a well-recognized leader in poultry innovation and research," says Feedworks USA Monogastric Business Director Pete Wilcock, "but he also has a unique skill for translating this knowledge to field application for the benefit of the producer. We are excited about the ways Mike supports our vision to maximize animal health and drive production efficiencies."

As Technical Services Consultant, Bedford will draw on his expertise in product design, evaluation and support to benefit Feedworks USA customers and suppliers.

Prior to joining Feedworks USA, Bedford was a research director at AB Vista Feed Ingredients and director of animal nutrition at Zymetrics, a division of Syngenta. Before that, he was a research and development director for Finnfeeds International.

"I'm looking forward to contributing my skills to such a vibrant company that values integrity and is grounded in a strong, science-based ethic," says Bedford. "I've worked in many fields of research, most of which are highly relevant for the current products in the Feedworks USA portfolio. Throughout my career, I have always enjoyed pursuing thought-provoking scientific research that drives the development of new technologies. Feedworks USA is a great fit for my experiences and passion."
